Dan Beardsley Named New Head Of Experiment Station

Dr. Daniel W. Beardsley, an animal nutritionist at the Everglades Experiment Station has been named as the new head of the station by the University of Florida President, Stephen C. O'Connor.

The Board of Regents approved Beardsley's appointment at its meeting in Pensacola. He assumed his new duties on July 1.

The 45-year-old scientist is familiar with the Belle Glade area and local conditions, having been associated with the Everglades Experiment Station as far back as 1949 when he was an assistant animal husbandman.

Dr. E. T. York, Jr., president of agriculture, said Dr. Beardsley has done numerous studies on beef cattle nutrition, including the level of concentrate feeding on pasture for fattening steers, vitamin E requirements for beef cattle and raw sugar as a replacement for corn for cattle.

Recent steer feeding studies carried out by Beardsley and others at the Everglades Station have looked into many different kinds of feeds and the best combinations of these feeds. Eighteen has been placed on locally produced materials.

This research has been directed toward finding out how to use to best advantage the quality and quantity of forage which can be grown in the Everglades area," said Dr. John W. Sims, dean for research with the Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences (IFAS).

Captain Hubert G. Duncan formerly of Belle Glade, was the recipient of the Bronze Star Medal in a ceremony Friday at Key West. The presentation was made by Major J. O. Black, Commanding officer, Marine Barracks, Key West.

The U. S. Marine Corp Captain, critically wounded in Vietnam in February 1967, was based in Key West, where he was transferred to the hospital there. His wife, Judy and their six-year-old son David, from Belle Glade are now residing in Key West and he is assigned elsewhere.

Captain Duncan was awarded this recognition for his heroic action performed when his men were nearly overrun by a North Vietnamese force of superior numbers. He bravely and unhesitatingly carried out his duty in the face of extreme personal danger, according to the citation.

Captain Duncan's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lundy Duncan, 124 Vandewater St., West Palm Beach.

Public Rejects South County -95 Connections

Public reaction to funding proposals by County Commission Chairman George Warren for South County water and sewer connections with the proposed Interstate 95 has put a damper on the possibility for such link, the board was informed Tuesday.

County Engineer George Frost, in a letter which Warren read to the board "with regret," said the reaction to the connecting road funding through special taxing districts has led him to advise city and federal agencies that "funding roadways needed are not now assured."

The engineer had noted that a new attitude of State Road Department officials toward allocation of $1.95 design and construction from the State Road Fund south to Broward County was "heartening."

Board members Warren, Chairman E. P. Van Kessel, Dan Gayman and E. W. (Bud) Warner took action to accept the Old Dixie Highway improvement program from Blue Heron Boulevard in Riviera Beach, northward to Parker Avenue. They authorized Assistant Engineer William Hill to award an outfall contract.

Gorham Construction Co., of Fort Pierce, was low bidder at $322,544 for the project to provide drainage for the section of Old Dixie and Blue Heron Boulevard in Riviera Beach. The work is scheduled to start in August.

Construction of the outfall is a prelude to construction of a "general" improvement project financed by a bond issue. It is financed by a bond issue. It is financed by a bond issue.

Commissioners also authorized a special bid opening July 15 in connection with construction of a permanent county vehicle inspection station at Glades Airfield. Advertisements will be placed July 14 and July 21, said Hill.

The volume of vehicle inspection last week increased, despite the Fourth of July holiday. The County Administrator, Jack Dean, has informed board members there were 5,643 vehicles inspected at the county's five stations. The average daily was more than 1,400 vehicles compared with a normal 1,000.

Van Kessel announced that the commission would begin a study of a bond of Equalization at 9:30 a. m. Monday to hear adjustment requests from county property owners. He said that the commission will be open to the public at the tax assessor's office.

Board members learned that the Florida Turnpike Authority may discuss a proposed Palm Beach County road project at its July 17 meeting in St. Petersburg, and authorized Warren to attend if the matter is deemed to be of importance.

In other business, the commission, by resolution, requested the Turnpike Authority to conduct a feasibility study on the possibility to extend the turnpike to Belle Glade and South Bay from the West Palm Beach Interchange.

WRESTLING THIS WEEK

Koa Tiki will face the Japanese, Seiji Sakaguchi in a challenge revenge match at the Belle Glade Armory Friday night.

Last Friday night the Japanese had beaten Sam Steamboat in the final fall, and as the referee held up the Japanese fighter's hand in victory Steamboat lay in the ring grasping his throat. The Japanese fighter had used the illegal Karate blow which the referee did not see. Tiki, who was closely watching the match told the referee who then reversed his decision giving the match to Steamboat. This action infuriated Sakaguchi who has challenged Tiki to a revenge bout.

Latin Tito Romero and Bob Griffen will clash in a four man tag team match against Arab Ali Wehba and Jim Dalton.

Girl wrestlers, Miss Susan Slade and Miss Mae Young will also face each other in the Friday night matches.

NRA Endorses Bill To Jail Criminals Who Use Guns

The National Rifle Association today endorsed a legislative proposal by Rep. Charles W. Sandman, Jr. (R-N.J.), to "put teeth into the law" by imposing stiff prison sentences on persons convicted of using guns in the commission of crimes.

Sandman said he would introduce his bill on the House floor. He said he had suggested the measure recently to the House Judiciary Committee, which rejected it.

"I cannot see how any member of Congress could be in favor of gun control and not be in favor of this amendment, which puts real teeth into the law," Mr. Sandman said. The NRA agreed.

Title VII of Public Law 90-351, the so-called Safe Streets Act signed into law by the President on June 19, makes it a federal crime subject to $10,000 fine, or 2-year imprisonment for anyone to possess a gun who has a felony record, holds other than an honorable discharge from the Armed Services, is mentally incompetent, is an alien, or who has renounced his citizenship.

The NRA heartily supports this provision," said Franklin L. Orth, Executive Vice President of NRA. "Any federal law which calls itself a law should give firearms ownership to persons who have disproven their right to own a gun, including those hired by convicted felons, mental misfits, or other anti-social

We believe this will make it more difficult for ex-convicts, dope peddlers and other undesirable who cannot themselves qualify to own guns, to employ hired killers and bodyguards to perform hitmen's duties on their behalf," Orth said.

"And we endorse the bill by Mr. Sandman to make sure they go to jail for a long time if they violate this provision," he added.

Orth pointed out that the gun-

Florida Seafood Big Business

Florida's seafood harvest weighed in at 205.9 million pounds last year and was worth $13.4 million, declares the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported in its Weekly Business Review released July 6.

"This catch includes the catch on the high seas which brought into Florida ports the majority of off-shore catch and a smaller amount from interior waters. "Last year's catch was about the same as in 1966 but compared with the average of the previous five years, it was 7 per cent more in value and 1 per cent more in quantity. Nationally there was a drop in volume from the five-year average but a 6 per cent gain in value.

"The annual consumption of edible fish throughout the nation has run between 10 and 11 pounds per person each year since 1955. Last year's consumption was made up of 5.9 pounds of fresh or frozen fish, 4.2 lb. of canned and half a pound of smoked or pickled fish, totaling 10.6 pounds. There are no figures on consumption in Florida but estimates show that it varies only slightly from the national pattern.

"Most Florida fish is sold iced. There are three plants in the state which can freeze fish and eleven which make industrial products such as fertilizers and oils from trash and non-food fish.

"The state's commercial fishermen have formed eight co-operatives to help market their catch. These have some 213 members who own about 260 vessels according to a recent report made by the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Painting is just one part of the arts and crafts program held this summer, and these students seem to be enjoying it.

Playing on the monkey-bars, swings and slides gives these students a chance to play together and have fun in the summer sun.

Horseshoes is a game enjoyed by sponsored Summer Enrichment - these Rosenwald Elementary students.

This arts and crafts display shows some of the talent Mrs. Hugh J. Rudder's students at South Bay School have shown.

Arts and Crafts Part Of Summer Enrichment

Paint, plaster of Paris, straw and various other supplies, coupled with good instruction, are the ingredients used by the Summer Enrichment Arts and Crafts class at South Bay School to produce a successful and enjoyable program, according to Mrs. Hugh J. Rudder, instructor.

The 72 member class uses supplies provided by the Palm Beach County Board of Public Instruction, the PTA, and other personally donated supplies to make baskets, straw trays, the art paintings, and floral arrangements.

Mrs. Rudder said over 340 models to cast objects of art of plaster of Paris are available to the students. Clay objects, modeled by the student are fired in the kiln.

Paper floral arrangements and vases are made by the students also, Mrs. Rudder said.
